

Book release: 'A Student Handbook of Italian' by Paola Martani

'It really looks like the book is going to be a very innovative and all-Indian way of learning Italian. A new bridge for the two countries that share their skills and want to know and learn about each other better: students who want to learn about Italy, for their future profession together with a professor like Paola Martani that didn't come to India with only the idea of teaching but also learning. Learning the way her students learn, the strategies Indian people need to use to learn, the Indian creativity and make a use of it to create something unique in its genre.'

Niharika Chhabra – The MilleniumPost

Published by: Har-Anand publications

Date: Thursday, 30th November, 2017

Time: At 19.30

Organized by: Istituto Italiano di Cultura, New Delhi

Don't lose the chance to come and meet, in this occasion, the new director of the Italian Embassy Cultural Centre: Dr.

Andrea Baldi @the informal get together.

Free entry upon presentation of a valid photo ID

